“The communication skills in Voices allow the learner to dive into different areas of interpersonal communication, offering teachers and students useful tips, strategies and useful language which they can then practise using in a variety of realistic scenarios.”

EMILY

“The world is getting smaller, and students on this course will gain international communication skills and knowledge of authentic topics to succeed in an ever-evolving global environment.”

The focus on real people

“When [learners] meet the National Geographic Explorers, they are getting to know interesting people who lead exciting lives, but who are also like them in many ways. [...] many of them are language learners themselves, using English to express themselves and succeed internationally. They’re ideal role models and great examples to emulate!”

DANIEL
BARBER

“For me, the focus on real people, including the National Geographic Explorers, is really interesting. I feel that getting glimpses into the lives of real people from all over the world increases the intrinsic interest of the material, and provides a context that makes the grammar, vocabulary, and other content natural and relatable.”

World Englishes and Pronunciation

"[Voices] recognizes the beautiful diversity of English, and is the first to use 'second language speakers of English' as models of pronunciation. [...] our pronunciation strands emphasize clear pronunciation, rather than proximity with an idealized standard 'first language speaker of English' model, helping students take ownership of the language and promoting inclusivity."

MAREK KICZOWIAK

"To prepare for real-world communication, learners need to be exposed to a wide variety of international English input. That's why Voices includes listening and video material featuring a broad range of both first- and second-language English users, and explores accents and pronunciation features that learners will encounter in real life."

Exam Preparation

"The unique communication skills and comprehensible pronunciation focus will help Voices learners perform confidently in speaking tests, and the contemporary photos and infographics are designed both to stimulate students to develop their productive skills and to input interesting ideas to talk and write about."
